The Art of Honoring Leadership Development College Mentoring Program Mentee Reflection

I am thankful for being a part of HWW. I remember doing the interview with Nancy Stephan, Founder & CEO, being extra nervous but also hopeful because I took the initiative to do something different.

The program really challenged me to go outside of my comfort zone and it allowed me to see women in a different light. The program allowed me to see different women from different walks of life being equally great. I honor myself today by being true to myself and my emotions.

I was given great advice from the mentors at HWW and I am even continuing my education thanks to my mentor, Kara Weiner. The actions that I took was to 'go for it.' I learned that I should go to job fairs and events and mingle and network because it will only open doors for you. I also learned to always have a list of questions to ask because it makes you stand out! And, do research when looking for jobs!

I just received my bachelors degree in Business Administration. I'm looking into getting a certificate in Academic Advising.

This program needs to be offered at more universities and even possibly high schools in many different states. The hope that HWW will give young women is immeasurable. I would like to thank you Lauren and Nancy!
